BUCHHEIT'S WILDCATS DEFEAT VOLUNTEERS ON STOLL FIELD TRACK

Clare, Wilhelm and Porter
Win Features at Kentucky-Tennessee Meet

FIELD IS SLOW

Blue and White Captures Ten Firsts, Eleven Seconds

Captain Warren Clare got away with four firsts and a second totaling twenty-three points, Jimmy Wilhelm displayed surprising form in the hurdles and Bob Porter won one of the prettiest races ever witnessed on Stoll Field for the features of the Wildcat-Volunteer Track Meet on Stoll Field Saturday afternoon when the Cats walked away from the field with 92 points in their possession while the Tennesseans had only 25. Kentucky won ten firsts, eleven seconds and one tie, while Tennessee won three firsts, two seconds and one tie.

The field was so muddy that all times were slow, but this in no way detracted from the interest. A very good crowd was out despite the cold and threatening weather, and stayed even after Kentucky had rolled up such a lead that the Volunteers had no chance to win.

Clare had won first place in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, 220 yard low hurdles, and was second to Snyder in the broad jump. Wilhelm, was second in number of points scored with 12½. He won the high jump, was second on both of the hurdle races and was credited with one fourth of the five points in the relay race won by Kentucky.

Bob Porter, sturdy miler and two-miler of the Kentucky squad, proved the stamina in his blood when he won the two-mile race from the long-winded mountaineer Hadley of the Tennessee squad. Hadley had previously beaten Porter in the mile and

"BOOKMAKER'S SHOES" HAS GREAT SUCCESS

Play Written by Kentuckian
Pleases Large Audience

The Dramatic Production class under the direction of Professor W. K. Mikesell presented the "Bookmaker's Shoes" Thursday afternoon April 4, in the Little Theater. The play written by Earl Mitchell, a Kentuckian, was full of pathos and humor of special interest to Kentuckians.

The play was well managed and the parts were excellently handled by the cast which was as follows: the "Little Girl, Kitty Conroy, the "Rogue" Eugene Siler, Buck Wilson, the "bookmaker" James Shouse, the "Messenger" John Burks.

The play deals with a very interesting incident in the life of an ex-Kentuckian, living in New York, who is still pursuing the trade of bookmaking. The "Little Girl," through the trick of and acquaintance, thinks that Buck Wilson, is a buyer of poems and is innocently sent to him to sell her mother's poetry. At first, Buck refuses the poems, but, when he learns that the "Little Girl" is the daughter of the first man who had ever befriended him, and that she is a Kentuckian, he takes the poetry and gives the girl all the money that he has lately won in a horse race. The "Rogue," who attempt to hold him up, is converted from his evil way by the generosity of the bookmaker.

Following the production the audience and players were entertained at a Tea given by the Woman's Guild.

"The Amazons," the play of a hundred laughs, will be given by Philosopher Literary Society Thursday evening at 8:15 in the chapel. This farce by Pinero is full of humorous and laugh provoking situations. Much of the humor of the farce is created by the attempts of the three young lovers, Treenaways, Litterly, De Grival, to circumvent the Marchioness and court the Amazons.

Margaret Harbison, Lucy Smith and Henrietta Rogers are extremely good as the willful but charming sisters. John Land is fine as the very English Lord Treenaways and Fred Houston-Shaw and Jack Derringer show up well as Litterly and De Grival. Claribel Kay is well cast as the Marchioness. The cast has been carefully chosen and every member plays up well.

The play has been directed by Prof. Mikesell and Prof. Sax has given valuable assistance in the costuming and scenery. Little Theater season tickets may be used for the play. Single tickets are 75 cents.

DEAN MELCHER BACK FROM CONVENTION OF UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS

Kentucky Dean of Men Se-

ference for Lexington

BRINGS GOOD REPORT

Student Government Endorsed by 15 Colleges

Professor C. R. Melcher, Dean of Men, returned from Iowa City, Iowa, Sunday, where he has been to the National Convention of College and University Deans of Men. Professor Melcher succeeded in having Lexington named for the next meeting which will begin on May 2, 1922.

A resolution endorsing student co-operative government in all student activities was unanimously passed. A number of Colleges and Universities sent representatives to sit with the Deans with the aim of creating similar offices at their institutions. The University of Missouri is one of the most prominent schools that will appoint a Dean of Men.

Dean Stanley Coulter, of Purdue University, one of the leading biologists of the country, who represented that school at the convention, will speak in the University chapel on May 10. Doctor Coulter has been at Purdue thirty-four years and is the only man in the United States carrying on work in a building erected in his honor. He is a brother to the noted Doctor John Coulter, head of the Department of Botany at the University of Chicago.

The following schools were represented: University of Illinois, University of Wisconsin, University of Michigan, Ohio Wesleyan, Toledo University, University of Nebraska, University of Iowa, University of Minnesota, University of Kentucky, University of Missouri, Iowa State College, Grinnell College of Iowa, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Iowa State Teachers College and the University of Colorado.

ALPHA XI GIVES FOUNDERS' BANQUET

Engagements of Two of Local Chapters Are Announced

The engagements of Mary Harkelroad to Harry Thompson, both of London, Kentucky, and Anna Jean Smith to Everett E. Elsey, both of Lexington, were announced at the annual Founder's Day banquet of the Xi Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity, which was held at the Phoenix Hotel, Saturday, April 16, 1921. The brides-elect are members of the college chapter and it is intended that they will have a double wedding in the fraternity house in Lyndhurst Place during the coming commencement week.

The tables were in the form of a T and decorated with a large wicker basket of pink rose buds and tied with streamers of the fraternity colors, double blue and old gold. Pink candles in silver candlesticks tied with tulle, and illuminated with the emblem of the fraternity, lighted the room. The place cards were cupids which held a surprise for the guests in the form of a card having spaces for the names of the engaged couples. In the center of the T was a tiny double wedding party. The favors were tiny brides and grooms.

Miss Sue Boardman presided as toastmistress and introduced Miss Dorothy Harris who announced the engagements of Misses Harkelroad and Smith, in rhyme. The following toasts were given:

"RADICALISM IN COLLEGES."

Our honored preceptor in journalism, the Courier-Journal, has in its issue of April 13 an editorial headed "Radicalism in Colleges" which is recommended to the serious consideration of students everywhere. There is matter for thought in it, though the situation is, we believe, somewhat exaggerated.

"The fact is," says the Courier-Journal, "too many of our colleges are hotbeds of socialism, parlor bolshevism, un-Americanism, pink-tea utopianism. This rather broad statement is hardly in accordance with the facts. There are fewer radicals, in proportion to numbers, in the schools of the country than there are on the outside. There is a wide, very wide, distinction between radicalism and progressivism which must be observed. Most of the long haired masculine and short-haired feminine "scoffers of convention" who have been through college went through in the capacity of sightseer or messenger boy. The university man "who scoffs at such 'conventions' as the Army and Navy" is usually a man who has served his time in one of the two and is only indulging his inborn American tendency to grumble, a characteristic of the doughboy during the war. He would be the first to resent actively similar remarks from an outsider.

In an analysis of the cause of the supposed condition the Courier-Journal arrives, with great force, at the college professor, who, "as a type, is isolated from the world," a man out of touch with the hard facts of the world, a dreamer and a theorist. This is a great injustice to the body of the profession. No class of men gives greater time and attention to its morning paper and the discussion of current events than professors. Many of them, and this is especially true of economists and sociologists whose teachings are more concerned with bolshevism, socialism and allied subjects, are engaged in outside activities which keep them quite in touch with reality. The Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Trade Commission, having to do with the realities of life, went to the college faculty for their experts. Instances could be multiplied.

It might be well to seek a little deeper for the cause of any radicalism there may be in colleges, to investigate the other side of the equation—the student. The "hot beds of bolshevism" will be found to be tended by young students of immature mind who have been educated by the "hot bed" method, students whose fond parents have rushed them through high school at the age of fifteen or sixteen and sent them on to college to put their nose in a book and make a degree in two or three years, students who are not only out of touch with the world but who never have been in touch with it. They are students who have had no experience by which they may test what they are taught, they have no measure by which to determine values, they have no perspective from which to look at things in their proper relations, and, furthermore, they have nothing to which to apply the knowledge they acquire after they acquire it. To such students a college education is useless until four or five years after graduation, when they have learned to apply it. And these are your parlor bolshevists.

This condition, and others which arise from the same causes, are due merely to the fact that anybody may go to college. Mental equipment has nothing to do with it. Anybody who has an entrance fee is admitted. Scholarship standards are not so high but that a good memory will keep one in school. When this hothouse plant begins to sprout can the college professor be held responsible for what it produces? The possibilities of the psychiatric test for admission to college are being developed, notably by Columbia University. In this day of overcrowded universities this means of weeding out the unfit is worthy of honest investigation. Certainly this is the means by which the colleges of the country may be purged of their "radicalism."

seemed confident of winning the two mile heat. Hadley led for the greater part of the race but was passed by Porter for about a half lap. Then Hadley sprinted with ease and passed Porter again. With a last great effort on the stretch Porter passed Hadley at the finish by the narrowest of margins and both fell exhausted in the arms of their teammates.

Boyd tied with Key of Tennessee in the shot put at 24 feet, 2 1/2 inches. Hayden wrenched his knee as he hurled the javelin 141 feet but Tennessee could never come near it. Hollowell, of Kentucky, threw the stick 139 feet for second place.

JUNEAU GIVES SQUAD
SPRING TRAINING

Passing, Punting and Signals Football Candidates
Daily Menu

Not many aspirants for next fall's football squad have been out for spring practice, under the tutelage of Coach Juneau who arrived last Tuesday, but those who have been there have been enthusiastically at work, as if the first game were, only a short while away.

To promote accuracy in throwing and passing the ball Coach Juneau has had the men throwing at a hole in a plank. This method, with a yet smaller hole, is used to practice passing the ball from the line to the backs. No scrimmage will be held, it is thought, but passing, punting and working out plays will be the daily order.

PHILOSOPHIAN TO PUT ON CLEVER COMEDY

The Philosophian Literary Society will be the liveliest organization on the campus if the spirit that now prevails among the members continues to grow. Several excellent programmes have been rendered this semester under the direction of the President, Lucille Moore.

On Wednesday, April 13, a most interesting and entertaining programme was given. It was a very humorous skit entitled, "A Night in Dixie." They cracked some of the funniest jokes that ever were. Negro songs and dances were cleverly woven in the skit.

The cast was composed of the following:

Jessie Frye Moore, Belle Trafton, Esther Harris, Lucille Moore, Nellie Stone, Billy Dalton, Dorothy Watson, Katherine Reed, Blanche Collings, Mary Bruce Richardson, Helen Brewer.

Also, Jeannette Lampert played the violin. An unusually large crowd was present.

A short business meeting was held for the purpose of appointing the committees to take charge of the property, publicity, and costumes for the forthcoming Philosophian Play, "The Amazons," which will be presented in chapel, on Tuesday, April 21, at 8:15. This play promises to be the best ever given on the campus.

In Selecting a University---

For a college education, there are five things to be taken into consideration:

1. The men at the head of the Institution.
2. The scholastic standing and ability of the Teaching Staff.
3. The location and advantages of environment.
4. Equipment, buildings, laboratories and libraries.
5. Cost.

In all these respects the University of Kentucky commends itself to those seeking a higher institution in which to carry on their education.

All Departments, including Liberal Arts, Sciences, Agriculture, Law, Education, Mining, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering.

The Government needs trained men and women; college training will bring the result.
